

Welcome to Bridges magazine

Welcome to Bridges magazine, your connection to the people, places and things that make our Ohio River community the truly unique place that it is.

In reading our magazine, our hope is that we all identify the ways our lives are interconnected - through our neighborhoods, places of work, churches and businesses; that we identify how each person's path intersects with another; and that we realize how our little corner of the world affects the bigger picture and vice versa.

So, grab a cup of coffee, settle in your favorite chair, and take some time to ponder life. Appreciate all that our communities have to offer. Savor the moment. Find your connection.
